Employment of Relatives:

- ❖ XYZTech does not give preference to the hiring of relatives or cohabitants. XYZTech permits the employment of relatives or cohabitants of employees if such candidates meet position qualifications and their subsequent employment does not, in the opinion of the Company, create actual or perceived conflicts of interest or present safety, security, morale, or lack of impartial supervision concerns.
- ❖ XYZTech's policy is that no employee may directly supervise another employee who is related to or involved in a social relationship with that employee ("related person").
- ❖ For purposes of this policy, a "direct supervisor" is someone to whom a report for assignments on a regular basis, or who has significant authority over an employee's wages, advancement, or continued employment.
- ❖ Additionally, no employee is permitted to be in a situation such that work responsibilities, salary or career progress could be influenced by a related person, or which might otherwise create a conflict of interest.
- ❖ In the event employees who are already in work relationship become relatives or commence a social relationship, then a solution may be sought (such as a transfer) which removes the direct supervisory relationship and addresses any additional concerns. The employees involved should discuss the situation with Human Resources.
